DP World Belgium loads and unloads containers and general cargo from all over the world, thus fulfilling an important function as a link between sea transport and road, water and rail transport.

The works consist of: laying sewerage, constructing a system of tension pipes, earthmoving for the realisation of the ground cofferdam, laying foundations in natural stone and then laying asphalt and concrete pavements.

With several contractors working simultaneously or consecutively, strict adherence to a very tight schedule was very important.

Willemen Infra is a leading, Belgian road construction company with a regional presence in both Flanders and Wallonia. An important asset is that we have all aspects of the construction process under our own management and thus fully control the execution. Moreover, our team of 1,000 well-trained and experienced employees are willing to work at night and over the weekend to make sure they get everything done in time. In addition, thanks to our own COPRO and CSC-certified production and recycling sites, we are one of the leading producers for asphalt and road concrete.
