In the Pullar industrial zone in Puurs, Cosimco undertook building work for pharmaceutical company PURNA 100, in the form of a new 4,500 m² warehouse with associated loading docks and surrounds. At a later stage, two further warehouses - each of about 4,500 m² - may be added, with the possibility of joining them together, depending on the future user. The existing and future PURNA buildings are separated from each other by a public road. In this way the new building is technically independent of the existing buildings.
